Equity Update

April 2, 2018

It is with warm wishes that we announce Rose Alexander's retirement from Sterling Capital Management, effective April 2, 2018. Rose was a senior equity trader on Sterling's Fundamental Equity Team. Her retirement was anticipated and her responsibilities will be divided among Sterling's equity traders.

When asked about her feelings approaching retirement, Rose noted, "It has been an incredible opportunity to be part of and to see the growth and success of Sterling. I have been so lucky and appreciate all that Sterling has done for me and all of the experiences that have gone along with being part of this outstanding company."

Rose has been a valued member of our team for over 25 years and her diligence has been an important part of our firm's growth. Her kind spirit and hard work will be greatly missed at Sterling.
